DISCOVER THE HOTEL COLLECTION

CTD ARCHITECTURAL TILES

Regarded and respected globally as the industry’s most widespread campaign to identify the leading interior designers, architects, hoteliers and brands, The Brit List Awards 2023 has unveiled this year’s shortlist, which includes more than 150 individuals and projects selected across 12 categories...

Not being content with a single grand gesture in the form of the awards ceremony of The Brit List Awards, Hotel Designs decided to make a month of it this year, and decided to kick-off the award season with a pre-awards party! On September 14, sheltered inside last year’s winning project, One Hundred Shoreditch, the hotel design community were welcomed to witness the official unveiling of the shortlist for The Brit List Awards 2023.

Sponsored exclusively by Crosswater, The Brit List Awards 2023 Shortlist Unveiling Party became the unofficial switch for the year-long campaign, which aims to find Britain’s best hotel interior designers, architects and hoteliers, from discovery mode to celebration.

For six years, the awards have been a celebration and a recognition of all the design and hospitality innovation across the boards in the industry. So, it felt fitting, to not only announce the winners to our annual fanfare, but also to share the creative talent that is The Brit List Awards Shortlist, which contains 150 individuals and brands – the most ever in the campaign's history.

“Much like what we see each year in the entries, we aim to unlock creativity in every nook of every studio and to, quite simply, offer something that is new,” said Hamish Kilburn, Editor of Hotel Designs who hosted the event. “That’s why our application / nomination process is free, and why we decided to throw a party to celebrate this year’s community, which has always been at the heart of our industry’s progression.”

The shortlisted finalists are...
