

SQUIRE & PARTNERS

Job Description - Junior Architectural Illustrator

Starting Autumn 2024

Squire & Partners are seeking a full time Junior Architectural Illustrator to expand their in-house Illustration Department at their Brixton-based practice.

The candidate must be passionate about architecture and the visual communication of ideas, with a keen eye for the composition of images. A background in architecture, interiors or illustration is required.

As a part of the Illustration department, you will work alongside both architects and interior designers to create high quality, atmospheric imagery, working on exciting and varied projects.

The ideal candidate will have

- A good understanding of the Adobe creative suite.
- An understanding of SketchUp and other 3D software.
- Knowledge of EnScape and V-Ray.
- Be self-driven, with a good eye for composition, palette and detail and be passionate about architecture and visual presentation.

The successful candidate should be keen to learn from our experienced team, be willing to further develop their skillset, while also having enough experience to manage their own workload. They must have excellent attention to detail, be organised and efficient, with the ability to work towards tight deadlines.

This position is permanent, working within a small team on 3D visuals, hand drawn illustrations, diagrams and 2D colourings.

Applicants with relevant experience and strong portfolios of work will be shortlisted for interview. Applicants must be able to work in the UK.

Please apply with CV/Portfolio under 6mb to recruitment@squireandpartners.com with the reference Illustration.
